Optimizing Your Fishing Techniques

The lecture series, “An Evening at the Hook,” kicks off the 2012 season with “Optimizing Your Fishing Techniques” on Thursday, February 9, 2012, at 7:00pm at Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuge in Milton, Delaware. David Beall, who founded the Delaware Fishing School and is considered an expert fisherman in the local area, will share with you his secrets on the where, when and how to's of sport fishing on Delmarva. More specifically, you will learn about new state of the art fishing tackle for scented soft plastics, what colors and sizes to select, and how to effectively use them. Don't miss out on this opportunity to make your 2012 fishing season the best ever with some worthwhile tips! Join us before the lecture at 6:30pm for light refreshments.

“An Evening at the Hook” is a lecture series that highlights this nation's abundant and diverse natural resources, particularly close to home at Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuge. Featured on the second Thursday of every month at 7:00pm in the Refuge Auditorium, these hour-long programs provide an exciting opportunity to learn intriguing facts about our plants, animals, environment, and cultural history. The lectures are free, open to the public, and fun for the entire family. Seating is limited on a first-come, first-serve basis. Please call the Refuge at (302) 684-8419 for more information.
